THE KOREAN WAR

At the end of the Second World War, Japan's empire was dismantled and the Soviet Union, seeking to gain influence in the region, occupied North Korea while the Americans moved into South Korea. The Soviets and the Americans eventually left, but not until a communist government had been established in the North and a democratic government in the South. Tensions between the two Koreas grew to a climax and, on June 25, 1950, the military forces of North Korea crossed the 38th Parallel into South Korea. This marked the beginning of hostilities which were to rage on for more than three years, throughout the country known to its people as the Land of the Morning Calm.

Sixteen (16) members of the United Nations, including Canada, would contribute combat forces under United States command to defend South Korea.

On November 21, 1950, 17 soldiers of the 2nd Regiment, Royal Canadian Horse Artillery, died in a train crash in B.C. while on their way to the war in Korea.

Canadians saw action in the Battle of Kapyong on April 24-25, 1951. Despite fierce enemy attacks, they maintained their position. Ten Canadians were killed and 23 were wounded in the battle.

On October 2, 1952, HMCS Iroquois was exchanging fire with an enemy gun battery on shore when the ship took a direct hit. Three Canadian sailors died and ten were wounded in the explosion.

Hill 355, known as "Little Gibraltar," was the scene of bitter fighting in late October 1952. Under intense enemy bombardment and assault, the Canadian soldiers there held their ground.

Over the course of some four years, the Royal Canadian Air Force (RCAF) No. 426 Squadron carried 13,000 personnel and 3 million kilograms of freight and mail between North America and the Korean theatre of operations. Twenty-two (22) RCAF pilots served with US Air Force squadrons in Korea. Flying Officer Omer Lévesque, seconded to the USAF, was the first Commonwealth pilot to shoot down a MiG-15 enemy fighter in the Korean War.

More than 5,000 Canadian women were recruited for military service during the Korean War. Of them, 60 Nursing Sisters served in Korea and Japan. When the ceasefire came into effect in 1953, the Nursing Sisters treated the released Canadian prisoners of war.

For their gallant stand at Kapyong, the 2nd Battalion of Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry received the United States Presidential Unit Citation. Other awards for valour received by Canadians during the Korean War include: 9 Distinguished Service Orders, 33 Military Crosses, 5 Distinguished Flying Crosses, 8 Distinguished Conduct Medals and 53 Military Medals.

The active fighting in the Korean War ended on July 27, 1953 with the signing of the Armistice at Panmunjom.

As with the two world wars that preceded Korea, Canadians volunteered for military service far from home. More than 26,000 Canadians served in the Korean War, including sailors from eight destroyers and airmen who took part in many combat and transport missions. Canada's military contribution was larger, in proportion to its population, than most other UN participants. In total, 516 Canadians died in the third deadliest conflict in Canadian history.

The total number of Newfoundlanders and Labradorians who served in the war is not known. On the back cover of this book is the list of those who paid the ultimate sacrifice as well as those that were wounded or injured.

A Poem of the Boer War

‘A Wife in London’ by Thomas Hardy - December 1899

I ~ The Tragedy

*She sits in the tawny vapour
That the City lanes have uprolled,
Behind whose webby fold on fold
Like a waning taper
The street-lamp glimmers cold.*

*A messenger’s knock cracks smartly,
Flashed news is in her hand
Of meaning it dazes to understand
Though shaped so shortly:*

II ~ The Irony

*‘Tis the morrow; the fog hangs thicker,
The postman nears and goes:
A letter is brought whose lines disclose
By the firelight flicker
His hand, whom the worm now knows:*

*Fresh ~ firm ~ penned in highest feather -
Page-full of his hoped return,
And of home-planned jaunts by brake and burn
In the summer weather,
And of new love that they would learn.*

He ~ has fallen ~ in the far South Land . . .

“I learned a thing or two.”

“When I first went to Beltone, I learned that one ear is not as deaf as the other ear... that I have two different levels of hearing loss. And that’s the first time anybody ever mentioned that to me. I must say... the staff at Beltone are really, really good!”

Bas Jamieson, Beltone customer and fan.

The Canadian Coast Guard Auxiliary (Newfoundland & Labrador) Incorporated [CCGA (NL) Inc.] is a non-profit, volunteer organization used to augment maritime search and rescue resources in the Newfoundland and Labrador Region.

CCGA members would like to encourage all fishers to keep safety in mind at all times. Having the proper safety equipment on board and in good operating order will not prevent a disaster from happening, but knowing its location and practicing its use will greatly increase your chances of survival.

The CCGA will be celebrating 35 years of successful operation in 2013. Since the CCGA was founded in 1978, its members have been credited with participation in thousands of missions and saving countless lives. Thousands of people are helped each year in marine incidents and millions of dollars of property are saved.

The Canadian Coast Guard Auxiliary has been recognized as one of the best, safest and most cost effective volunteer marine rescue organizations in the world.

Eye conditions don't always come with warnings. Often early detection is critical in preventing unnecessary vision loss or permanent damage from occurring. See your optometrist regularly. They know your eyes inside and out.

I commend The Royal Canadian Legion - Provincial Command on publishing annually a Military Service Recognition Book.

A sincere thank you to all veterans in Newfoundland and Labrador for your sacrifice to ensure others get to live in peace. Many of your comrades paid the ultimate sacrifice while performing their duty, selflessly preserving peace and defending freedom. Your acts of courage, and theirs, must never be forgotten.

I sincerely appreciate the support of The Royal Canadian Legion, and the many Legion branches throughout the country, that endorsed my private member's motion (M-422). I introduced my motion in the House of Commons seeking to ensure a dignified funeral and burial for all veterans, which unfortunately, is not the case today. For more information on M-422, please visit my website at judyfoote.ca.

I will continue to push for fairness and respect for all veterans and their families.

Message from the Minister

The Royal Canadian Legion offers an important service in commemorating and mourning the veterans of Newfoundland and Labrador. It is essential it is that we never forget the actions of those men and women who fought for the freedoms we are blessed with today.

The Veteran's Service Recognition Book, Lest We Forget, is a valuable publication which recognizes the brave veterans who fought in World War I and II, the Korean War and other conflicts and peacekeeping missions. Men and women from Newfoundland and Labrador have made invaluable contributions during these major wars and have continued their dedication to this day. It is our duty to recognize their sacrifices and celebrate their achievements.

Congratulations to The Royal Canadian Legion on another successful edition of Lest We Forget.

A Thousand Times

When the sun comes up
Til the sun goes down
We think of you a thousand times

In a far off land where trouble lies
So very young just girls and boys
While you're on the enemy lines
We think of you a thousand times

When your Country called you had to go
Pick up your arms and fight the foe
You are so far away from home
We wish you could pick up the phone
We never know how your day will end
Another soldier another friend
While you're on the enemy lines
We think of you a thousand times

You fight and you will do your part
But you're always close within our heart
We know you've cried but you must be brave
The lives of others you try to save
While you're on the enemy line
We think of you a thousand times

Our prayers we offer up to you
And all our soldiers so brave and true
God give you courage to carry on
And keep you safe from road-side bombs
While you're on the enemy line
We think of you a thousand times

When you come back, please God you will
Soldiers proud, big boots you've filled
You fought against the Taliban
To help the people of Afghanistan
While you're on the enemy lines
We think of you a thousand times

O' Canada we stand on Guard for thee

Korean Ambassador for Peace Medal

Tuesday, November 5th, 2013, marked the 60th anniversary of the armistice that signaled the end of the Korean War. Ambassador Donghway CHOI (The Consulate General of the Republic of Korea in Canada) was at Branch #56 Pleasantville in St. John's that day, and presented the Korean Ambassador for Peace Medal to Newfoundland veterans of that conflict. The medal is awarded by the South Korean government to foreign military members who served in the Korean War. This is in recognition of their contributions in that conflict.

With sixty years now passed, many of the medal recipients have passed on and the number of surviving veterans continues to dwindle.
